VESTIMONY from the Hon. THOS. H. BENTON PARTON'S LIFE AND TIMES OF AARON BURK

PARTON'S LIFE AND TIMES OF AARON BURR. Perhaps there could be no more important testimony to the truthfulness and interest of PARTON'S LIFE, OF BURR than that of the Hon. THOMAS H. BENTON. Himself an actor in some of the events related, and the author of some of the most strongly condermatory language ever penned with regard to Barr, he was certainly a competent, and not likely to be a louient judge of Mr. Patton's book.

Extract from a Letter from the Hon. Thomas H. Benton, dated Feb. 26, 1858.

"I have taken the time to look over the Life of Burr, and find in it much which is new and interesting to me, but without aftering the opinion of the man formed about fifty years ago. I doesn't a valuable contribution to the history of the times in which he acted his part, and very accurate in the narration of the Western events in which he was engaged, of which I was a close though a young observer. I venture to predict for it a general and favorable reading."

THE ELEVENTH EDITION of PARTON'S LIVE OF

THE ELEVENTH EDITION of PARTON'S LIFE O BURK is now ready—the remarkably rapid sale of the book still continuing. AN UNHAPPY MARRIAGE.—Arthur's New THE HAND BUT NOT THE HEART;

THE HAND BUT NOT THE HEART.

LIVE TRIALS OF JESSIE LORING.

BY T. S. ARTHUR.

The point of this story is expressed in the title; and the story intell is a sharply drawn illustration of the folly and madness of linking teacher two immortal souls by the rough chains of solish interest, price, or baser passion.

The leasuntaught is one of deep significance; and thousands of leasts will throb in almost wild response, to the life experiences of Jessie Loring, who, in all the litter trials of her unlanging union, sweaved not a bair's breath from honor, pernetple, or religious duly, though temptation came in its most altering shape.

As the type of a true woman, she is worthy to be embalmed in the memory of every reader.

The Publishers of the "Way of Life," desirous to aid in the spread of the Gospel—and to send forth suitable persons as standard-be arers in the army of our Lord and Savior Jeaus Christ—do agree (provided their paper receives that support from the Christian public that will enable them so to do to educate for the ministry one young man every year from each of the Evangelical denominations represented in the list of our contributors, to go forth as a missionary into the great and mighty West. In order to enable us to do this, our subscription list must reach at least 50,000 copies. We, therefore, appeal to the Christian public to come over and help us, and let every Christian young man consider himself a canvasser in this good work, and forward as as many names of subscribers as he can find time to obtain. We are anxious to begin at once to educate some one, so that he may go forth, like the "Morning Star," to gladden the beauts of many that are sixting in darkness, and set before them the "unscarchable riches of Christ."
